To each is given a bag of tools
A shapeless man, a book of rules,
And each must shape, 'ere life is flown,
A stumbling block, or stepping stone.

STEPPING STONES TO SUCCESS

WE STEP ACADEMICALLY

Eagerness and curiosity is the prime motivator of the grade school children.

The seventh grade adopt new goals upon entering Junior High, and try hard to reach them.

The high school classes find their studies harder, and strive all the more to prepare themselves for their role in society.

WE STEP PHYSICALLY

Sportsmanship and fair play is a part of our training.

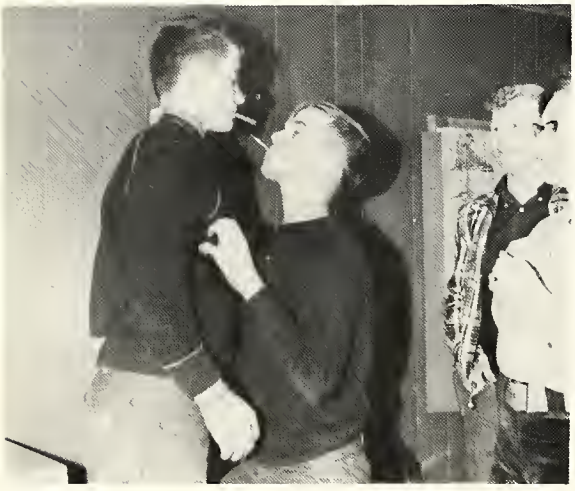
Eddie and Randy learn the process of give and take.

Determination is a winning factor in any game.

Early training is the first step. . . constant effort leads to rewarding responsibilities.

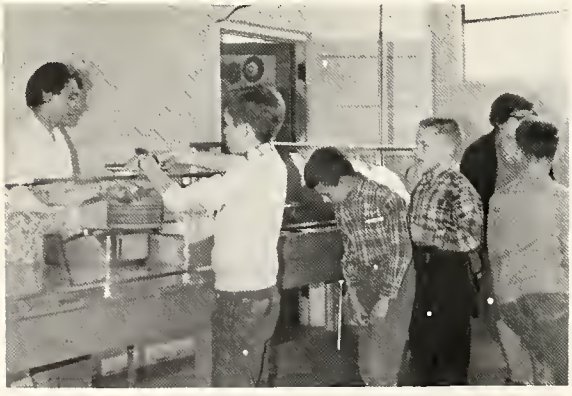
WE STEP SOCIALLY

Everlasting memories and strengthened friendships resulted from the back-to-school party.



Wayne and Jerry find that co-operation help in any instance.

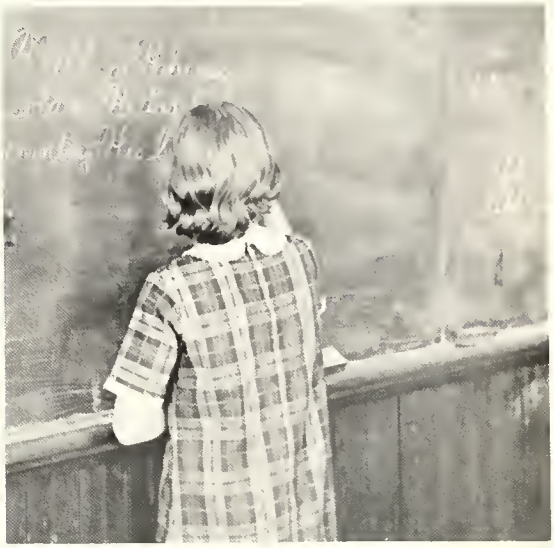
Sharing secrets and happiness is a part of these girls lives.



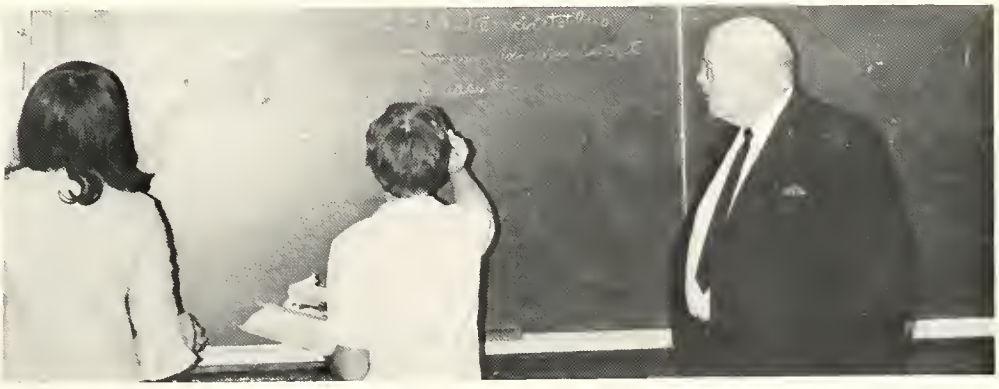
Manners are learned in consideration for others.

Recreation unites students in fellowship.

WE STEP CHRONOLOGICALLY



The first steps in mental and physical growth. . .are the basis of our whole lives.



Learning about a different people and their language helps us to understand ourselves.

New experiences help us to prepare for. . .our future.

WE STEP SPIRITUALLY

The Christmas program reminded us of our Christian duties.

The high school vocal ensemble began this PTA program with a "Plea For One World"

The children sing to Santa, the symbol of loving kindness.

Thanksgiving is commemorated by a junior high group.

DEDICATION

We, the final stroke of a completed masterpiece dedicate this 1967 yearbook to all those who have gone before us; to those people who, throughout the years, have lived within Alamo High School, and breathed the breath of life into that which we proudly call our heritage.

We, today, feel that we can adorn ourselves by claiming the name of Alamo to our beings. Yet this adornment would be meaningless, indeed, impossible were it not for those people who have given of their spirit, and of their dedication to enhance the name "Alamo."

We, the seniors, inherited a title of which we are proud. We can never hope to repay this gift. We can only become the "finishing touches" of a sculpture that has been fifty-seven years in the making.

We complete the final year 1967 with this note:

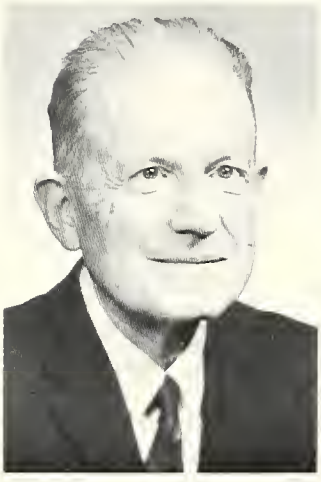
While our destiny was forming,
We did the job well.

Hattie Hedrick Steve Hall Roger Smith Mary Brown

CLASS OF 1910

Mary Selby

George Brown



Clyde Rodgers

Fred Hudson

Four class members began the fifty-seven year history of Alamo High School and four class members will end the history that was, for a short while, an intimate part of hundreds of Alamo High School students lives. Mrs. Mary Selby, Mr. George Brown, Mr. Clyde Rodgers, and Mr. Fred Hudson graduated from here in the year of 1910. Since that time these people have led interesting lives.

Three of these graduates contributed to society by teaching school. Mrs. Mary Selby received her teachers training at Danville, Indiana. She taught at Hibernia, and also here in our own grade school at Alamo.

Mr. George Brown graduated from what is now Indiana State University in 1916 with an A. B. degree. In 1913 Mr. Brown received a B. S. degree specializing in Industrial Arts and Science. He has taught in public school for twenty-seven years.

Mr. Fred Hudson also taught in public school from 1917 until 1950.

Upon graduation, Mr. Clyde Rodgers entered the business and political fields. He served as Montgomery County treasurer from 1926 until 1929. In 1930 he became the manager of American Securities at Crawfordsville and served in that post until 1964.

These first four graduates were the beginning to a line of success that continues even today. With the 1967 Commencement exercises on May 12, the final four graduates will embark upon their careers to lengthen that line to even greater distances.

SCHOOL BUILDING

Alamo school first came into existance in the year 1891, as men of our community worked together to fell trees from the groves directly in back of the present building to raise a small frame building

It is interesting to note that when the trees were cut, rock boulders were found inside of the trees. They were shot there, years before, during Independence Day celebration by men firing from a hollowed-out log propped on a stump, used as a cannon.

In 1910 Alamo became a four year high school. The new building was completed in 1913, although it was not dedicated until 1914.

It was not until 1941 that the Alamo gymnasium was added to our facilities. The project piloted by trustee, Walter Fink more than doubled the available floor space in our school. The architect was Carroll Beeson.

During the fifty-seven year history of Alamo High School it became the mainstay in hundred of students lives. There, friends were found, experiences, both frightening, and joyous, were lived. Goals were set, and standards, established. Moments of every kind will forever remain in the hearts of all those who, were, for a tiny moment, a part of Alamo High School.

GYMNASIUM

WHAT LIES AHEAD. . . . . .for the last graduating class of Alamo High School? Here, Dotti, Steve, Roger, and Mary surround a globe signifying their entrance into society as high school graduates.

CLASS HISTORY

As we entered our first year in high school we had five members. Pres., Bill McCormick; v.pres., Steve Hall; sec. & treas., Mary Brown; student council, Dotti Hedrick; and member, Roger Smith. Linda Klepzig moved in soon after school had started. Roger Smith moved to Russellville at the end of the first six weeks.

At the beginning of our sophomore year we had three new members, Mary Kay Dickey, Becky Goins, Roger Smith had moved back to join us. Our class officers were as follows: pres., Dotti Hedrick; v.pres., Becky Goins; sec., Linda Klepzig; Treas., Bill McCormick; student council, Steve Hall. The members were Roger Smith, Mary Brown, and Mary Kay Dickey. Mary Kay Dickey moved during the second six weeks.

When we came back to school our junior year, we had lost one member, Bill McCormick. Our class officers that year were: pres., Becky Goins; v. pres., Linda Klepzig; sec., Mary Brown; treas., Steve Hall; student council, Dotti Hedrick; and reporter, Roger Smith. Linda Klepzig and Becky Goins left us during the second semester.

At the start of our senior year we had four members. Our class officers for that year were: pres., Dotti Hedrick; v. pres., Mary Brown; sec., Steve Hall; and treas., Roger Smith.
